Natural Disaster Recovery Information

Office of Congressman John Shimkus

On the following pages is information I hope will be of assistance to residents of central and southern Illinois who have been affected by the devastating spring flooding. Assistance is available across a wide range of areas and agencies, including non-profits. This is by no means a complete list of all the sources of assistance in our region. There are many other groups assisting in the recovery, including local volunteer organizations who are working so hard to help our communities.

Please note that certain programs and agency assistance may not yet be available but could become so at a later date as the recovery effort continues. If you do contact one of the agencies listed here and are told that help is not yet available, it would be advisable to try again at a later date if some other resolution is not found in the meantime.

I hope that residents of the area will contact me if there is any way in which I can be of assistance as our region's recovery continues. A list of my offices is on the left, and you may e-mail me by clicking "Contact Me" on my web page at <http://shimkus.house.gov>.

Disaster Recovery Resources: Federal Declaration

Office of Congressman John Shimkus

Updated 4.19.13

At this time, we are still awaiting a federal disaster declaration for Illinois.

If the President approves Illinois for federal disaster assistance, aid will be available to designated counties from the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA). If approved, our area will have access to FEMA staff in person, on the phone, and on the web. FEMA will establish a Disaster Recovery Center in the area and will have personnel available to see damaged areas first-hand and meet with local residents to assist them with applications for assistance.

A resident of a declared disaster area may also apply for benefits from FEMA by phone at 1-800-621-FEMA (3362) or 1-800-462-7585 (TTY) between the hours of 7 a.m. and 10 a.m., or online at www.disasterassistance.gov.

If the President declares Illinois a disaster area, the news will be announced in local media and on the FEMA website at www.fema.gov. At that time, or shortly after, the locations of the Disaster Recovery Centers will be announced, as well as any other local information about applying for assistance.

Frequently asked FEMA questions can be answered by visiting <http://www.fema.gov/assistance/dafaq.shtm>.

Women, Infants and Children Program (WIC)

If you had to evacuate your home due to a natural disaster, you may still be eligible to continue your WIC benefits and will be in “evacuee” status in the program. Evacuees may not need to present proof of identity, residency, or income that is normally required if these documents were destroyed. For further information, you should contact your local WIC office, or the Illinois office may be reached at 1-800-323-4769.

Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP)

If a Presidential Disaster is declared and the State of Illinois requests and is approved, people already receiving SNAP benefits may temporarily be eligible for additional benefits. Those who may not ordinarily qualify for SNAP may be eligible if they had expenses related to protecting, repairing, or evacuating their homes or if they have lost income as a result of the disaster. To see if you qualify for this assistance in Illinois, please call the DSNAP hotline at 1-800-843-6154.

Farm Service Agency www.fsa.usda.gov/il

If you lost any documents or necessary paperwork from any business conducted with the Farm Service Agency, please contact your local FSA if you need information from your documents.

Emergency Conservation Program www.fsa.usda.gov

This program is designed to rehabilitate farmland damaged by natural disaster causing new conservation problems that if left untreated would “impair or endanger the land; materially affect the land’s productive capacity; represent unusual damage which, except for wind erosion, is not the type likely to recur frequently in the same area; and be so costly to repair the Federal assistance is or will be required to return the land to productive agricultural use.”

Livestock Indemnity Program www.fsa.usda.gov

The livestock Indemnity Program is administered through FSA. The program is designed to provide benefits to livestock producers for deaths in livestock, in excess of normal mortality, due to adverse weather conditions. Animals must have been maintained for commercial use as part of the farming operation on the date of death.

Assistance for Livestock, Honeybees, & Farm-raised Fish www.fsa.usda.gov

The Emergency Assistance for Livestock, honeybees, & Farm-raised Fish program is designed to specifically cover losses not covered under the Livestock Indemnity Program or Livestock Forage Program. Examples of items that could be covered are eligible grazing loss or loss of feed. Producers must file claims with their local FSA office within 30 days of loss.

Noninsured Crop Disaster Assistance Program www.fsa.usda.gov

The noninsured Crop Disaster Assistance Program is available to producers growing a crop not eligible for coverage under other crop insurance programs.

Supplemental Revenue Assistance Program (SURE) www.fsa.usda.gov

To be eligible for SURE you must have obtained a policy or plan of insurance through the Federal crop Insurance Corporation. You must sign-up for this program during the announced period each year at your local FSA Office.

Tree Assistance Program www.fsa.usda.gov

The USDA FSA Tree Assistance Program provides financial assistance to qualifying orchardists and nursery tree growers suffering qualifying tree, bush, or vine losses in excess of 15 percent. You must have already obtained a policy or plan of insurance through either the Federal crop Insurance Act of the Noninsured Crop Disaster Assistance Program.

Emergency Forest restoration Program www.fsa.usda.gov

The USDA Emergency Forest Restoration Program provides payments to eligible owners of non industrial private forestland in order to carry out emergency measures to restore land with damage caused by a natural disaster.

Risk Management Agency

If your crop insurance documents were destroyed due to the tornado, please contact your agent to obtain your information.

IRS Disaster Assistance and Emergency Relief for Individuals and Business

Special tax law provisions may help taxpayers and businesses recover financially from the impact of a disaster, especially when the federal government declares their location to be a major disaster area. Depending on the circumstances, the IRS may grant additional time to file returns and pay taxes. Both individuals and businesses in a federally declared disaster area can get a faster refund by claiming losses related to the disaster on the tax return for the previous year, usually by filing an amend return.

The IRS also offers audio presentations in Planning for Disaster. These presentations discuss business continuity planning, insurance coverage, record keeping and other tips to stay in business after a major disaster.

Reconstructing records after a disaster may be essential for tax purposes, getting federal assistance or insurance reimbursement. Records that you need to prove your loss may have been damaged or destroyed in a casualty. For helpful tips in reconstructing your records, there is a handy checklist that covers personal residence/real property, vehicles, personal property, and business records. (<http://goo.gl/E0z5v>)

For IRS assistance and additional information, use these resources:

IRS Disaster Assistance Hotline at 1-866-562-5227 (Monday through Friday from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. local time).

IRS Publication 2194, Disaster Losses Kit for Individuals.

IRS Publication 2194-B, Disaster Losses Kit for Businesses.

IRS Publication 584, Casualty, Disaster, and Theft Loss Workbook- this can help individuals make a list of stolen or damaged personal- use property and figure the loss on the one's home and its contents and one's motor vehicles.

IRS Publication 584-B, Business Casualty, Disaster, and Theft Loss Workbook—this is available to help businesses list stolen or damaged business or income-producing property to figure the loss.

Small Business

The Small business Administration (SBA) has a disaster claims and assistance center in Atlanta. The Center may be reached by calling 404-331-0333. The SBA offers very low interest loans after a natural or man-made disaster.

The Illinois Department of Commerce and Economic Opportunity (DCEO) offers some additional Disaster assistance and resources. DCEO's number is (217) 782-7500.

Disaster and Recovery Resources: Housing

Office of Congressman John Shimkus

Updated 4.22.13

People needing to rent housing may get assistance from HUD's National Housing Locator System. This data base provides information on available housing by location {in the immediate area, within the region, or elsewhere nationally}; number of bedrooms needed; and rent levels. HUD staff and participating public housing agencies will assist disaster victims in obtaining information on available rental units.

For individuals personally affected by a disaster and requiring permanent housing assistance, HUD offers:

Section 203(h) of the National Housing Act

Under this special mortgage insurance program, individuals or families whose residence was destroyed or damaged to such an extent that reconstruction or replacement is necessary are eligible for 100 percent financing. Insured mortgages may be used to finance the purchase or reconstruction of a one-family home that will be the principal residence of the homeowner. Section 203(h) offers features that make homeownership easier-

- No down payment is required.
- The borrower is eligible for 100 percent financing.
- Closing costs and prepaid expenses must be paid by the borrower in cash or paid through premium pricing or by the seller, subject to a six percent limitation on seller concessions.
- Some fees are limited. Loan origination fee may not exceed one percent.

Eligible Participants: FHA-approved lending institutions, such as banks and mortgage companies are eligible for Section 203(h) insurance.

Application: The Borrower's application for mortgage insurance must be submitted to the lender within one year of the President's disaster declaration.

Applications are made through and FHA-approved lending institution.

Section 203(k) of the National Housing Act

Under this mortgage insurance program, homebuyers may borrow funds from lenders, to purchase or refinance a house that also requires repair, rehabilitation, or modernization. A portion of the loan proceeds is used to pay the seller, or, if a refinance, to pay off the existing mortgage. The cost of the rehabilitation must be at least $5,000, but the total value of the property must still fall within the FHA mortgage limit for the area. Section 203(k) borrowers do not pay an upfront mortgage premium.

Eligible Participants: FHA-approved lending institutions, such as banks and mortgage companies.

Eligible customers: All persons who can make monthly mortgage payments.

Section 203(k) Streamline Program

The Limited Repair Program permits homebuyers to finance an additional $35,000 into their existing mortgage to improve or upgrade their home before move-in.

Property Improvement Loan Insurance (Title I)

The Title I program insures loans for up to 20 years, to finance the light or moderate rehabilitation of properties, as well as the construction of non-residential buildings on the property. The maximum loan amount is $25,000 (for single family or non-residential buildings, and $12,000 per family unit, not to exceed a total of $60,000 for a multifamily structure. These are fixed-rate loans whose interest rates are not subsidized by HUD.

Eligible Lenders: Only lenders approved by HUD specifically for this program can make loans covered by Title I Insurance.

Application: Applications must be submitted to a Title I approved lender.

HUD Real Estate Owned (REO) Properties

HUD sells single family homes that it has foreclosed on. People interested in buying a HUD-home in their general area must contact a real estate sales professional who is authorized to sell HUD homes (most are). Your sales professional will submit a bid for you. For properties outside of a prospective buyer's area, consult the HUD website: <http://www.hud.gov/homes/>. A real estate sales professional is still needed to offer a bid on any property.

Public Housing <http://goo.gl/jJScV>

People displaced by a disaster may find temporary or permanent housing in vacant properties owned by public housing authorities (PHA). Disaster victims must be income eligible (low income) and PHAs must be willing to give up priority to disaster victims. HUD Disaster Volunteers may locate vacant PHA units using the National Housing Locator System.

Home Repair Loans from USDA <http://www.rurdev.usda.gov/il>

Funds can be used for a wide range of problems, such as repairing or replacing a leaking roof, installing central heating and air conditioning, replacing windows or siding. Loans can also be used for improvements to plumbing, electrical, flooring, foundation repairs and more.

The maximum loan limit for an individual applicant is $20,000. Loans have a one-percent interest rate and are available to cover the cost of eligible repairs. Loans can be repaid over a period of up to 20 years.

A low-cost loan allows the homeowner to make multiple repairs and keeps payments affordable. For example, a loan of $5,000 over 20 years would cost the homeowner about $23.00 a month.

Homeowners with very low income, based on the county in which they live, can apply. For example, a two-member household with an adjusted gross income of $21,850 would be eligible in most of the counties that we serve. Applicants must be the owner of the single family dwelling, occupy the home, able to repay the loan and have an acceptable credit history.

Grants may be available to homeowners 62 or older with very low income and without the ability to repay a loan. Grant funds are limited but may be used to remove health and safety hazards or to remodel dwellings to make them accessible to household members with disabilities. Grants have a life-time limit of $7,500. These grants are often combined with loans to increase the amount available for repairs.

More information about Rural Development’s 504 repair loan program is available by a local USDA service center:
